

Seitshiro burial

DEPUTY president of the Association of Black Securities and Investment Professionals and former trustee of the National Empowerment Fund Kabelo Seitshiro will be buried in Soweto tomorrow.

Seitshiro, 38, died last week. At the time of his death Seitshiro was head of consultancy Tlhama Capital.

NEF spokesperson Moemise Motsepe said: "Seitshiro will be remembered for his intellect and expertise as an accountant."

Seitshiro was previously executive director for IDG Financial Services, chief director of asset management for National Treasury and former director of the Export Credit Insurance Corporation of South Africa.
